Synopsis:

In this charming film, a group of fifth graders in upstate New York stages a performance of "The Wizard of Oz." From the daily challenges of being a child to the realization that the end of elementary school might mean the end of youth, the film is a touching window into the lives of five ordinary and extraordinary children. With fantastic use of music, this film draws you in to the story of Joey, Jeffrey, Elizabeth, Isabel and Nick.

As an added bonus, a costume contest for the best "Wizard of Oz" will take place at the screening and prizes will be awarded for the best handmade costumes.
